CSC 235: Web and Database Development

Overall this assignment was really to refresh my memory in HTML, CSS and JAVA… the basics. Love getting back to it. Did a little of playing around with the CSS and tried doing some nav menu work, but since it's a presentation it didn't go very well. Maybe I'll learn throughout the semester how to do it INSIDE a presentation. Besides that, I understand the basics of how to edit, add and modify stuff.
